

The Chenango Forks Fine Arts department would like to congratulate this years winners in the 2010
"AN ARTISTIC DISCOVERY" HIGH SCHOOL ART COMPETITION
sponsored by Broome County Arts Council!

The Congressional Art Competition is an annual juried competition for Broome County High Schools located in the 24th Congressional District.

Six award winners of "An Artistic Discovery" Broome County will compete with student artists from 11 other counties in the 24th Congressional District competition in Utica, sponsored by U.S. Representative Michael Arcuri.

The winning artwork in the Congressional round will be exhibited on Capitol Hill in Washington, D.C. for one year.

This years winners from Chenango Forks are:

Alyssa Hawras - Best of Show

Abby Ponterio - Composition Award

Jackson Haskell - Originality Award

Broome County student artists have won the top prize for three of the last four years, in 2009, 2008 and 2006, including CF student Kiefer Collingwood's win in 2009. Kiefer's piece is currently hanging in Washington.
