

Name _____

1. Title: _____

2. Author: _____

3. Who would you say the main characters of your book are and why?

4. Name three other important characters and explain what makes them important.

5. Who was a character you liked and why?

6. Who was a character you didn't like and why?

7. Which character reminded you of a person you know and why?

8. What happened in the book that reminded you of something in real (maybe your) life?

9. What is one scene from your book that you wish you could see?

10. What part of the book did you like more than the rest? _____

11. What part of the book did you like the least? _____

12. What was a particularly exciting part of the book? _____

13. What was a boring part of the book? _____

14. If you were able to make a change to something that happens in the book, what would it be? _____

15. Explain why you liked or did not like the book. _____

16. What are five words in your book that a reader might have to look up? Include the page numbers where these words can be found.

1. _____ Page _____

2. _____ Page _____

3. _____ Page _____

4. _____ Page _____

5. _____ Page _____

17. Explain why this book would or would not make a good movie.

18. If you could trade places with one character in the book, which character would it be and why?

19. Sometimes our minds drift when we read because a book makes us think about something. What did this book make you think about?

20. If the author handed you this book and told you to add or subtract something from the book, what would you add or subtract and why?

21. Was there anything to be learned from this book? Even if it didn't try to teach you anything, are you taking anything away from it? If so, what is it? If not, why not?

22. Why would you recommend this book, or not recommend it, to someone else?
